

Using FeedbackFruits' Peer Review to facilitate discussions and feedback (Mar 2025)

Last Modified on 22/01/2025 2:56 pm HKT

FeedbackFruits' Peer Review tool enhances feedback and assessment processes. It integrates with Blackboard groups. Teachers can create interactive formative tasks for students to provide thoughtful feedback on their peers' work. The feedback is nicely displayed on FeedbackFruits for instructors and teaching assistants to gain insights into students' comprehension levels.

In this upcoming briefing session, we will demonstrate how Peer Review on FeedbackFruits can streamline the feedback process, using the following scenario as an example:

- Prior to the report presentation, students in Group A, as a group, will share their draft report with a designated group, Group B.
- Group B will offer feedback on Group A's draft report using FeedbackFruits.
- Group A will then assess and incorporate Group B's feedback to enhance their presentation and final report.

This use case is just one of the many ways in which the Peer Review tool can be utilized. It provides a range of options to meet various requirements.
